

Memories & Remarks from the Family

Isaiah Partridge (Son)

& Jasmine Partridge (Daughter)

Heaven has gained an angel this morning. My mother had provided me and my sister with everything she could and was the bright light in the world of what could seem very dark at times. Her smile, voice, and laugh were infectious on anyone she came in contact with. Being a divorced single parent and having done everything and more to provide for me and Jasmine, she has given me tremendous strength and shown me that anything is possible no matter the circumstances. Although this was very unexpected and sudden, I am at peace because she is no longer suffering and beyond grateful she got to see me make the band...not one, but four times and see me graduate college. I will always love you and I know you're skating your butt off to Roger and Zapp wherever you are right now.

DeMaris "Lynn" Bland (Big Sister)

Today, I have lost a very special lady, in my life. My sister, Trevenna Partridge, was chosen, by God, this morning, to receive her wings. It came as a surprise. I'm in a bit of a shock. This beautiful, warm person is a mom, to two wonderful, young adult children, Isaiah and Jasmine. Trevenna has battled a lengthy illness, but managed get through life, still cooking, still truly supporting her children in all they do and still finding time to be at family gatherings. She and I would talk a few days a week and when she could, we would go out and do things together. She really loved all of her siblings and all of her nieces and nephews (which she truly spoiled). Trevenna, I will truly miss you, the times we spent together and the meals we cooked and shared with each other. I will continue to watch over your "babies" for you. I know how extremely proud they both made you. Each day now, when I look outside, I will follow a ray of sunshine through the clouds and know you are securely in arms of God and Mama and Daddy. My forever love is instilled in your spirit.

Your Big Sister, Lynn

Lamar Bland (Nephew)

Today my family and I had our hearts completely torn apart to discover that we unexpectedly just lost a true GEM in our family. My Aunt T., Trevenna Arminta Bell Partridge gained her angel wings, left this earth and ascended into heaven to be with Jesus and my Grandma and Grandpa (her mommy and daddy) early this Saturday morning. Words cannot explain the pain that we have and are feeling, especially her two babies Isaiah Partridge and Jasmine Partridge, who are stronger than I am. I will forever miss her smile, her voice, her ridiculously hilarious jokes, and strong outgoing personality. She was such a bright light that immediately lit up the room when she arrived to all of our family functions and was always the life of the party. As you can see in the old family picture she's right in the center top! She taught me how to PARTY! She is the reason I love rollercoasters so much and became a rollercoaster enthusiast!

She was a thrill rider and would sneak me on all the huge rides and rollercoasters when my mom didn't want me getting on them. She taught me how to drive...FAST and how to avoid accidents by dodging bad drivers, watching out for (speed trapping cops). She was the cool, wild, adventurous auntie and I had so much fun playing with her when I was little. Thankyou Aunt T. for taking us to swimming lessons at Dodge Pool, Rhodes Park to play while you power-walked your laps around the track, The Columbus Metropolitan Library Downtown to check out and read old Kings Island History and Rollercoaster books, City Center Mall Kay-Bee Toys, Eastland $1 Movie Theater, the Skating Rank, Bowling, and just everywhere all summer long while our parents were at work, all before you went to work 2nd shift over at the original Discover Card Financial Services for literally as long as I've been alive. You have worked your entire life. Now it's time for you to rest and relax.

Rest In Heaven Aunt T. I love you, we love you and know you are now lighting up heaven pain-free having fun.
